

Tidel Expands Operations with new Customer Support and Manufacturing Facility

June 4, 2019 – Carrollton, Texas – Tidel, a world leader in cash management systems designed for a variety of retail applications, today announced its expansion into an additional 27,000 square foot facility adjacent to its existing headquarters in Carrollton, TX.

The expansion comes at an opportune time for Tidel, as it faces unprecedented demand for its cash automation solutions, both domestically and globally. The new facility will allow Tidel to expand its current capabilities for manufacturing and customer support functions while freeing up room for further growth in its engineering and R&D teams at its current location.

"As Tidel continues to expand its global customer base and solution portfolio, our new facility will be an integral part of our overall footprint," said Darren Taylor, President and CEO, Tidel. "This expansion will help Tidel meet customer demand for solutions that help organizations achieve greater efficiencies, security, and transparency in how they handle their cash operations."
